Nauseless Calomel Best Medicine For A Lazy Liver

Calotabs, the New Kind of Calomel, Does the Work Without the Slightest Unpleasantness or Danger.

You have always thought of calomel as the best and surest medicine in the world, but too nauseating for you to take. That was the old-style calomel. Now science has taken the sting out of calomel by removing its unpleasant and dangerous qualities, and has kept all its good liver-cleansing and system-purifying effects.

The next time you are bilious or constipated ask for Calotabs, the new nauseless calomel. Sold only in original sealed packages, price thirty-five cents. One tablet at bedtime, with a swallow of water—that's all. No taste, no griping, no nausea, no salts. You wake up in the morning feeling fine, your liver active, your system purified, and with a hearty appetite for breakfast. Eat what you please—no danger of salivation. Your money back at any drug store if you are not perfectly delighted with Calotabs.—(adv.)

A GOOD FRIEND

A good friend stands by you when in need. Columbus people tell how Doan's Kidney Pills have stood the test. H. C. Foreman, proprietor blacksmith and general shop, of 1404 Bell avenue, Columbus, endorsed Doan's ten years ago and again confirms the story. Could you not for more convincing testimony?

"I had considerable backache and trouble with my kidneys," says Mr. Foreman. "Off and on for several years I had been subject to pain across my loins and often when I arose in the morning, I was stiff and tired than when I had retired the night before. I was pretty well crippled up; stiffness and lameness in my back made it difficult to move over in bed and during the day I was inconvenienced on account of these troubles. A dull headache would cling to me for days at a time and I was subject to dizzy spells. Hearing so many good accounts of Doan's Kidney Pills, I decided to try them, as different remedies I had taken hadn't benefited me. Doan's brought me prompt and absolute relief from all the troubles and it is with pleasure that I recommend them." (Statement given March 24, 1908.)

On March 22, 1918, Mr. Foreman said: "I still think the same of Doan's Kidney Pills today as ever for they have always helped me when I have needed them." 60c. at all dealers. Foster-Milburn Co., Mfgs., Buffalo, N. Y.
